

Tom Croucher | Personal Profile

Associate Director / Electrical Engineer / Training Academy Co-ordinator

Profile

Tom is an Associate Director Electrical Engineer specialising in the design of complex Building Services Engineering systems. Since joining the Company in 2002, Tom has worked his way up from Junior Engineer having studied locally and at London South Bank University for his vocational qualifications up to, and including, Degree level.

Tom was the first member of our Training Academy and is now instrumental in the development of other TNG Junior and Intermediate Engineers. He is an excellent mentor and coach, and was the natural choice for this role because of his appreciation of the hard-work that is required to become a qualified Engineer.

Having been mentored himself as a Junior, Tom has taken on board the traditional values that were at the heart of the Company's formation back in 1999. He will provide a focused, detailed and thorough service and will do whatever it takes to meet his Clients aspirations.

Qualifications

BEng (Hons) from London South Bank University

Memberships

Graduate Member of CIBSE

More about Tom

One day I would like to ...
Sit in the boss's chair!

What I love best about being an Engineer...
Responsibility, the level of detail and sense of achievement.

My greatest achievement is...
Still to come...
